I'm listening to three hours of jungle, breakcore, and D&B. This video has less than a thousand views. No fresh air has circulated through my apartment in several weeks. I'm logged onto my It's like a sport to me. My breath smells

To America's Only Native Cat

When I use the microwave I hear my downstairs neighbor's thoughts. I've been on hold with Peanut M&M's customer service hotline for two hours now and I'm losing my edge. I might just hang up. Everyone is covered in a dark film and the sun hurts me. My stomach feels itchy. My toothbrush is hurting me on a microscopic level. There's mold in my brain. I generated a boyfriend using AI and now all the fucking polar bears are dead. Today, I wondered if my phone was listening to me sleep.

I used to be anxious, but I'm better now. I started taking Loqualia. I started taking Peembarto. I'm on a strict two-injections-per-year regimen with Ulalaquade. I'm doing electroshock therapy. I'm getting a stoma installed. I eat raw meat now. I eat my own excretions. I heart-react posts about chemtrails. I have a small, painless nodule protruding several inches from my tailbone.

No longer do I ruminate endlessly about simple things - now, I pace around the house for several hours a day. I'm a modern day Socrates. I'm asking your girlfriend if you fulfill her spiritually. I'm in your man's house watching him cook unseasoned chicken breasts. I'm on Quora giving children inaccurate information about human relationships. I am not allowed in Europe until I can keep my hands and feet to myself.

I've been bloodletting into a mysterious chasm that inexplicably appeared in my closet. The landlord says that the mysterious chasm doesn't need blood, but it quite clearly keeps asking for blood. I told her that it asked for blood and she said she would look into it. It's been three months.

I LOVE MY BLOODTHIRSTY
CHASM

Every day, the chasm is asking for blood and the landlord says she's looking into it. How long does it take? What does my money pay for if not buckets of blood?

Get some blood into the chasm, damn. If you want a chasm fed right, you have to do it yourself. People these days don't want to work. Especially because of the chasms that require a lot of blood. Well, I'm not like people these days. I let myself bleed dry into that mysterious chasm for reasons I am still unclear about, and I'm proud to report it has disappeared.

Well, the blood-thirsty chasm disappeared for a little while. It's back now. However, that just means we need more blood. An easy fix. I've done my duty. Now it's your turn. Bleed yourself into the chasm. For unclear reasons. So sayeth the lord.

- It's the LAW

God dammit. The landlord said she would fix the chasm, but all she did was hammer a piece of plywood over it and spray it with off-white paint. If she actually listened to the chasm, she would know that it has particular dietary needs: Human blood. I'm all tapped out on blood. As is my roommate - I checked his blood levels while he was sleeping a deep sleep, induced by the chasm's psychic, rhythmic chanting. She better not use the chasm to take my security deposit away.
